Lee Evans Partnership Associate Partner appointed chair of RIBA Canterbury & District Branch 18/06/09

Lee Evans Partnership's Associate Partner, David Gullick has just been appointed branch chairman of the RIBA Canterbury & District Branch. David succeeds Lee Evans Partner Matt Hayes who has held the post for the last 3 years.

David's particular architectural interest lies in conservation and restoration of historic buildings and he holds an Architectural Association's MA in Conservation. He has also worked extensively on the development of SEN provision in the UK and is the project architect on a £6m flagship project for the National Centre for Young People with Epilepsy which is due to be completed later this summer.

Very much looking forward to his tenure David says, 'My colleague Matt Hayes and his predecessor, Guy Holloway, ctmarchitects, were both very successful in their collaborations with local practices to promote architecture throughout Kent and I am determined to build on their success. The two Canterbury schools of architecture also remain keen to maintain an active relationship between their students and the Branch. Despite these turbulent times I hope our membership will continue to enjoy the benefits that the work of the Branch generates.'

David's first event as chairman was to host an AGM and Private View at the Kent School of Architecture (KSA), at the University of Kent, where branch members were invited to preview the KSA degree show and assist in selecting the portfolio winners.
