Lee Evans Partnership has maintained its position for three years in a row as one of the top 100 architects in the UK according to Building magazine. In its annual state-of-the-nation review released this month the magazine ranked the Practice as 82nd, a four place improvement on its last year's position.

Managing Partner, Nick Lee Evans said, ' We are delighted to be in the Top 100 Architects. To improve on our ranking again this year is a great achievement and one of which we are justifiably proud.'
