

Bradbury Court, East Clayton Farm short listed in Building Better Health Care Awards 2010 11.11.10

Lee Evans Partnership's award winning design for Bradbury Court, East Clayton Farm, West Sussex received national recognition again when it was short listed in the category of Best Social Care Design at the Building Better Healthcare Awards 2010.

The development is the first shared ownership housing scheme for young people with profound and multiple disabilities in the UK.

The awards, hosted by Dairmuid Gavin, were held on Thursday 11 November 2010. Over 400 guests gathered at The Brewery, London to celebrate and reward the very best in healthcare building projects, product design and estates and facilities management with one ultimate goal – to improve the patient experience.
