Lee Evans Partnership's remodelling and extension of an existing school building at Dulwich College Preparatory School has just received national recognition and scooped a green apple award for environmental good practice.

Project Architect, Phil Ward, received a silver award in the category of education and training at a ceremony held at the House of Commons on 15 November.

The Green Apple Awards are presented annually in recognition of companies, councils and communities carrying out projects that enhance the environment and there were more than 500 nominations this year.

The campaign is run by The Green Organisation, an independent, non-political, non-profit organisation that recognises, rewards and promotes environmental best practice around the world. Supporters include the Environment Agency, the Chartered Institution of Waste Management, The Chartered Institute of Environmental Health, SAVE Britain's Heritage, The Municipal Journal and various other professional bodies.
