LEP ranked in Top 100 architects 10 October 2011

Lee Evans Partnership is once again one of the top 100 architects in the UK according to Building Magazine's annual state-of-the-nation review which ranked the Practice 74th, 11 places up on its last ranking.

Managing Partner, Nick Lee Evans said, ' We are delighted to be in the Top 100 Architects again. Despite three of the toughest years in construction's recent history, like some of the other consultants surveyed, we have seen a small rise in staffing levels this year and although the future still looks challenging we can begin to see light at the end of the tunnel.'
